Question Two Read the following two texts then answer all the questions that follows each text.

Text A

Ibn Bassal was a writer, a scientist and an engineer who lived in Al-Andalus in the eleventh century CE. He worked in the court of Al-Ma'mun, who was the king of Toledo. His great passions were botany, which is the study of plants, and agriculture. Although he was a great scholar, he was also a practical man and all of his writing came from his own 'hands-on' experience of working the land.

One of the many things which Ibn Bassal achieved was A Book of Agriculture. The book consisted of sixteen chapters which explain how best to grow trees, fruit and vegetables, as well as herbs and sweet-smelling flowers; perhaps the most famous chapter of all was the one that described how to treat different types of soil. Ibn Bassal also worked out how to irrigate the land by finding underground water and digging wells. He designed water pumps and irrigation systems. All of these things were passed on through his writing.

The influence of Ibn Bassal's book was enormous. As farmers down the generations followed his instructions and advice, the land became wonderfully fertile and produced more than enough food for the fast-growing population. The irrigation systems that he and his followers put in place are still in evidence in Spain. Although his name is not widely known, Ibn Bassal's legacy to the world has been great.

1. Quote the sentence which shows where all Ibn Bassal's writing came from.
2. Ibn Bassal dealt with many agricultural topics in his book. Write down three of his topics.
3. Ibn Bassal discovered two ways to irrigate the land. Write these ways down.
4. There were two benefits for farmers who followed Ibn Bassal's instructions. Write down these two benefits.
5. Find a verb in the second paragraph that means 'supply land with water'.
6. Ibn Bassal was a polymath. Write down two examples of his areas of knowledge.

Text B

Don't come away from sales pitch wishing you had been better prepared. It is essential to know everything about your product. Do you know when it was developed, and where it is produced? You also need to know who the target market is - for example, the age group or income of the people who might buy it.

In addition, you should know exactly which people you are speaking to, and what their needs are. For example, if they represent a middle-class department store in a humble neighborhood, be ready to explain why your particular product would suit customers who do not have lots of money. What makes your product perfect for them?

Plan your presentation carefully, not just what you will say, but how you will say it. Will you read it word by word, use notes or memorize it? Whatever you decide, it is always a good idea to have a list of your main points, in case something interrupts you, or you simply freeze with nerves.

To be professional you should keep your presentation short and simple. Start with some friendly comments. For example, thank your hosts for allowing you to speak to them, and compliment their company. Remember to speak slowly and clearly. It is important to appear confident. While you're speaking, don't keep your head down. Instead, look round the room and make eye contact with your audience.

1. According to the text, you should start your presentation with friendly comments. Give two examples from the text.
2. When you make a sales pitch, you should know many things about your product. Mention two of them.
3. Find a phrase in the text that means (a large shop).
4. In order to be a professional salesperson you should do certain things during your sales pitch. Write three of them down.
5. What does the underlined pronoun them refer to ?
6. When you are going to do a sales pitch you should have a list of main points for two reasons. Write them down.

Question Three : Free Writing

Each of us has dreams and wishes, and we do our best to achieve them. Write an article in which you mention some of your wishes and what you need to do to make them come true in the future.
