Mei: Hey, Dana. I saw in your blog that you visited the Monument in London. What did you think?
Dana: I thought it was brilliant. Look, here's picture I took.
Mei: That's amazing! I know that it's monument to remember the Great Fire of London, but don't know much else about it.
Dana: Well, it's a tall tower with a gold ball at the top. It's a few meters away from where the fire restarted in 1666.
Mei: I didn't know that. How did the fire start?
Dana: Well, there was a bakery on Pudding Lane and the fire started in an oven. The houses in London used to be wooden, so the fire moved from house to house very quickly.
Mei: Oh, no! That's awful! Then what happened?
Dana: The fire burned for four days because there was no fire brigade.
Mei: So what did people use to do when there was a fire?
Dana: Well, they didn't use to be able to call the fire brigade like we do now, so they just used to throw buckets of water over fires.
